“A must-read for anyone interested in understanding and dismantling mass incarceration.”

— Chesa Boudin, District Attorney of San Francisco

N*gga Theory

By Jody Armour

Foreword by Larry Krasner
Introduction by Melina Abdullah

“An explosive analysis of language and law... Jody Armour maps out a new form of solidarity.”

—Dr. Steven W. Thrasher, Daniel H. Renberg Chair of Social Justice in Reporting and Assistant Professor of Journalism

“A confirmation and a revelation. N*gga Theory is a masterpiece.”

—Kate Chatfield, Senior Advisor for Legislation and Policy at The Justice Collaborative

“A call to uplift the human dignity of the individual”
—Dan Satterberg, King County Prosecuting Attorney

“I applaud Jody Armour’s heroism and bravery for illuminating the entrenched failures of the criminal justice system and its disproportionate impact on Black and Brown communities.”
—Marilyn J. Mosby, Baltimore City State's Attorney

“A powerful exploration of race, class and justice, particularly criminal justice, in today’s America”
—James F. McHugh, Former Associate Justice of the Massachusetts Appeals Court
